Quebec Conference

For immediate release – March 24, 2020

---

In conformity with the most recent measures taken by the civil authorities to close non-essential activities, all our congregations and schools remain closed for public gatherings until further notice. Our offices and the Adventist Book Store will also be closed for the public as of March 25, 2020. A few employees will be at the office to perform essential functions like accounting and payroll, but no public access will be permitted. Arrangements have been made for administrators, directors, secretaries and IEE staff to work from home. We are working to put in place measures that will allow our main functions to be performed. Please stay tuned for more updates and guidelines in the following days on our website sdaqc.org.

May God bless you!
